1st off, I'm stuck with FireFox, since my copy of MicroNaut Widows XP went fritz on me...and re-booting XP hasn't helped.

Wow, you are stuck, there are no other browsers either.

Been without a ladyfriend since Patty walked out...and that REALLY puts a crimp in your life at church social funtions.

Ha-HA, you believe in an after-life!

The quality of work at Heromorph seems to have stayed about the same since this place "went over the wall". (I thought that, since all the Northern Boys were on "Home Turff", it'd go UP! )

I've compared the quality of YOUR work from before and after, and I'd have to say the it has gone way downhill.

I've got the hots for the "female persona" of one of the impersonators down at the local drag queen bar...His FEMALE appearence...I'm not into 'poles'...just 'holes'; and I'm straight as a LASER!

Just hanging out at the drag bar... cause that's what straight guys do... 'just sitting here thinking about holes'. Let me guess 'Patty' is really Patrick.

I want to contribute...but, will you take a money order? No one knows...

Get a credit card, you can't stick it in a drag queens' garter but it has many other uses.

Happy half century!
