I do not think that Dr. Mohinder Suresh's Dad is really deceased. Also, that he has an intimate connection to Syler (but not to Claire Bennet's adopted father, I think his connection is of a different sort.)

I also do not think that Claire Bennet's a clutz, a wimp or fragile; she gets hurt as easily as the rest of us fleshy water bags, she just painlessly heals, and very quickly.

I am glad to see the show starting to pick up it's pace. I hope the writers have a long term story arc plotted out, and that they have the time to bring it to fruition.
