Hi everyone

I assume everyone is hard at work making presents for your person since everyone that signed up before the sign up due date was giving their name on Dec 5th.

If you for whatever reason are having problems finishing or think you will be unable to finish your image for any reason please Private Message (PM) Myself or Daruma (He is really Santa in disguise) or reply to this thread. A number of us, myself included, have already completed their images and have time to complete another image before x-mas. Also I am sure Dark Wanderer would be able to help as he missed signing on before the deadline.

It is unfair to the people that signed up to this event and completed an image to receive nothing. If you are having problems finishing, Please do not wait until the last second to announce that you cannot finish the image, let us know in a reasonable period of time to do something about it.
