This kicks all kinds of arse! And it is a fabulous showcase of the great art and talented artists we have here at Heromorph!

I agree that the images fly by a bit too fast, but don't slow them down too much in the next version. You still want the images to tease. Plus, you don't want to make it too long and you don't want to have to leave any images out.

Also, maybe leave the URL up at the end for a couple of seconds longer.

I really like the song. Who's the artist?

Thanks!
