I did say IF anyone was interested. you are certainly under no obligation if you don't wish to and I certainly won't be offended.

Of course you wont be offended, Your trying to beg for weird fetish art work that most of us would not do if you paid us. Offended! You probably wouldn't be offended if someone took a crap on your dinner table, From all the sick requests you have made you would probably think it made for a nice smell.

Under no Obligation

What a joke. Like anyone in their right mind would think they had an obligation to you.
