Canadians in comic books, with the exception of Wolverine, are hockey loving lumber jacking Eskimo's.

Puck, Captain Canuck.... for the love of God, eh! if you are from Canada you need to be a Indian or a idiot or both.

I thought the sterotype for ALL canadians, not just the superheroes, was that they are Hockey Loving lumber jacks... that live in Igloos... and say ABOOT instead of About... and...

But yeah... othre than that... I gots nothing. Uhm... if you green and live on land you are dumb. And if you are green and live underwater... you can breath underwater.
