The only thing Downey Jr. has been in lately is fucking Rehab... and jail... and rehab... and jail... and rehab. He is a flake and he is worthless as an actor. Macaulay Culkin, as a child, had more range than this retard has now. His voice, as an adult, actually reminds me of Macaulay Culkin as a child... maybe they are related. If he stays in the armor the ENTIRE movie and James Earl Jones does the voice of Iron man... then and only then will it be decent.
Robert Downy "Crack head" Junior... Fucking Looser.

Lighten UP, Jr!

First off, what's the script like? Is it something that He can / can't handle? Is there any 'chemistry' between Him and the others? Has He been keeping it on the 'straight and narrow'?

Until we see the movie (or get parts of it offa U-Tube) let's all take a "wait and see" attitude, ok? Personally, I thought that the adaption of the Dick novel wasn't too shabby...but, I've never really been a big Phillip K Dick fan.

Now, Spider Robinson, on the other hand...
