Just thinking about say a little more about me and here seems to be the place.

I'm a big fan of fotomanip since a found a wizard magazine with sites about it. The only one i could find at that time was from a guy name's Ray, and man, this guy had the most amazing manips I ever seen but then my pc went Kaput on me and i was without one for a few years.

When i get a new pc, one of the first things I did was search the net for manips and there it was Heromorph. And i come back for more because you guys here rock and for a comic geek like me this place is great.

Always like to see what everybody post for years and a few weeks ago i download one of your tutorials just for fun and to see how you guys do such amazing pics, so i'm a guy that always like all kind of comics since ever and movies about comics and draw some times, so i think to myself why not try manips to see what i could do, so i did.

But the question here is about my name, so here it is: it's always a headache for me to choose a nickname because the ones i like are always taken, so for this a came up with my name initials and the first letter of my country (Osvaldo Correia Portugal).

Glad to be here.

Be Happy
