i think it's cool....but the way things are going clark won't become supes untill he's in his 30's by then kara will be superwoman not supergirl...and in the comics clark shows her hoe to use her powers but here she has more powers wut up with that..also lex will be back he and the rest of the cast signed on for 7 seasons....i think with kara showing up the show will end next year and there will be spinoff
