Ok, so Android, Masterchief, and Buffy all insist I go all out on this Hulk drawing..... Add to that Winterhawk did a drive by shoutboxing and complimented the hands. So..... I can't decide if I should start free hand inking the Hulk in photoshop. Or if I should go back to the paper and add more stuff like broken poles and Iron Man's head popped off and flyin. Not to mention I want Caeira in there somewhere. At present I have a drawing of her head and face, and all I can come up with is a ghost like head for her in the background. I WAS thinking maybe full body action style, but she'd have to be smaller so she doesn't take away from the Hulk's size. Last night I did go back over the Hulk and well.....
