I concur, pictures of children in sexually suggestive or compromising situations belong nowhere, anywhere, period.

I respectfully ask for clarification and documentation concerning children in NON-sexually suggestive or compromising situations; such the "Power Pack" and the "X-Babies".

I ask this, not to be argumentative, but expose a potential loophole that may be best plugged with a final policy stating something like:

Due to possible exploitation by an undesireable sub-class of fungus; no artwork containing children, of any kind, under any circumstances, period.

Not only to cover Lady HMs butt, but to protect a place that means a lot to me.
