how are the following rounds images gonna be decided for voting. Should we mark them in a particular way?

I have stuff I wanna post, but not at the expense of the first pic being the only one voted on. I have two other panels i wanna post that are kinda fill-in stuff.

From my understanding of the rules. Any image that is part of the official script will get counted in future rounds. Round one was just a pin-up image so only the first pin-up was counted. I am sure someone will correct me If I am wrong.
