Your girl with the S look awesome but, you're having a little trouble getting the facial dimensions right. The first, you probaly just scrunched it a bit too much for perspective. The second you gave almost no forehead to. I suggest taking a ruler to various body parts and figuring out some loose ratios(face mostly).

Also, if you need bigger paper, do what I do. Draw a margin on all sides to make that the new edge. Then, when you go beyond it, you still have paper there.

I do have to applaud you on the bodies. I suck at that part.
