when the comics came out we knew absolutely nothing about doomsday. Nada zero zilch. he popped out of a container buried deep underground. started killing shit on a cross country trip to Metropolis.

It wasn't until a couple years afterwards that we learned about doomsdays past in a separate series and Superman, the Cyborg Superman, and Doomsday all went up against each other.

The death of Superman story line in the comics was not much of a story line at all.

Doomsday come, doomsday kicks justice leagues ass. Doomsday kills Superman at the same time he dies. I find it hard to believe that anyone could screw up that story line, because their really wasn't one.
