Have all posted at least one image that was on script or close enough to the script that we can consider it to be on script.

Players eliminated this round are

Android
Biohaz Daddy
Exador

on a side note, I haven't really had time since Sept hit, with the kids back in school and their after school activities starting back up again, I just haven't had time to manage the smackdown or update the thumbnails on the challenge page this round. I have nothing prepared for the write up or the round four script so please be patient and I will get those thing out to you as soon as I can, I asked for help but I am assuming the other moderators are just as busy as only Bio was able to assist with the thumbnails that are on display currently.
