HM Admin:

This particular contest has no award ((or reward...what ever you want to call it.)<--I just added that)) other than being able to puff up and say you won.

What is the timezone for the deadline?

Hmm... good question. Well, since most of our TV listing(in the states) are Eastern... let do Eastern Daylight Time. (EDT)

And what exactly constitutes a Halloween theme? I.e. could the presence of a scary monster be enough? Or would there have to be pumpkins?

Thanks.

You know... ghosts, goblins, witches, vampires, pumpkins, bats... Lighting a Paper bag full of pooh and putting it on the neighbors front porch and lighting it on fire....

OK, thanks to Chilly... every image has to have at least one Jack o lantern in it. It doesn't have to have a candle burning in it, but it does have to be a carved pumpkin. This doesn't mean a small orange dot in the background. Make it at least large enough that you can tell it is a carved pumpkin. Great Idea Chilly!
