Batman begins was watch once, and Superman Returns should be returned(if you even bothered to buy it). Brian Singer shoulda stuck with X-men, Superman is tragic but the Jesus metophores were too numerous and obvious. I was not aware Contantine was DC, and did not see it.

As for Marvel, I only remember good movies, so I mostly agree with you on that. FF was pretty good for me(a non-fan) but Sue's casting rubs me the wrong way.
