I did not mean to stir up a hornet's nest with this thread. I was just voicing my opinion (for what it is worth) and making a suggestion.

IF YOU DON'T WANT TO MAKE COMMENTS THAN DON'T, That's the way I feel. But I just thought that it would be nice if more people made comments a little more often.

I am not asking for everyone to comment on everything that is posted, No one does that, just take the time to comment on a picture you think is really outstanding, or different, or cool, or peaks your interest, or is really bad, or whatever. I think it would make the site more interesting.

I know that I like to receive comments on my art. I like good or bad comments (I prefer good of course) But if you are going to tell me my art sucks than please tell me why it sucks and maybe how I can make it better. I appreciate those who have done that already and hope that you continue to do so. Thank you.
