Just bought Stephen King's Dark Tower graphic novel. The art is done by Jae Lee and it's pretty good. I normally can't stand Stephen King's writing because he's one of those who "describes to the point of distraction". But so far I'm enjoying this. Hell, there's even a photoshop coloring tutorial in the back.

Also, I've been collecting World War Hulk and The Hedge Knight. The Hedge Knight is too early in the story to tell whether it's good or not. But WWH is freakin awesome! He's straight beating the hell outta EVERYBODY!!!!

Beyond that, I've been somewhat on a novel binge. I've gone through Homeland by R.A. Salvatore, The Elenium Trilogy by David Eddings, I Robot by Isaac Asimov, and the 1st book of the Tamuli by David Eddings.

So, what are you guys reading?
