Hello! Well, this shall be my first post. Thought this would be closest to an intro thread since I didn't see one and starting one just for me would be annoying to others.

My name was made up by my best friend. I needed one for a message board and this one stuck. We use to do some Batman RPG's. She did an awesome Harley, and I did the Joker. That was before they made her mainstream and changed things.

We'd do other RPG's as well, but always villains. Stick with what you know!

I've loved comics all my life and I still read them. I hope to make some new friends here.
