Sorry, I've been hanging out at a site for fanfic writers recently and everyone there seems to know what that means. Shipping is from 'relationship'. It basically means pairing people up. As for my rant, I just think you are way too hung up on the fact that Moira isn't 100% accurate in what she's saying. Not that I really know how much she is misrepresenting things, it sounds like it's just a minor case of exaggeration and bias.
