I couldn't find the original thread for Cloverfield... so here is a new one.

It's Finally here... well, almost.

I was looking around the web and found this killer image, done by a fan, of what they think the monster is going to look like. I think it would be pretty cool if the monster was a 400 foot tall mutated whale with crabs.

For those that do not know what I am talking about... here is the trailer.
