my guess is it is because IE sucks monkey ass. I tried it myself and you are right.. Huh that's too bad.

Well yet another reason not to use IE unless you absolutely have too

Yeah completely screws IE doesn't it....

I wonder why. Damn Microsoft.

It is really strange, you can enter the module thru the story itself, but it freezes when you go to the main pages. I really do not know as this was one of the few modules that we did not have to change. previous tests on this module had it working just fine before.
