Well, Santa didn't bring me a new tablet... and mine is on its last legs.

So I need to raise money to buy a new Wacom, just a basic one... looking to raise about $US80-100. (technically I have the money, but as a poor student that money is meant to be used for textbooks with the alphabet in it or something)

I'm offering photomanip commissions, anything will be considered (excpe that one thing - you should know what it is) - but consideration does not guarantee I will take the job.

I won't list prices, because there are too many variables and someone ends up thinking they can have a dozen character manip for $10.

But I will keep the prices cheap.

Payment through Paypal only, after completion.
