well, i won't be seeing it in the theaters, mainly because of the hit-or-miss attitude toward alan moore comics that hollywood has. i mean, i liked v for vendetta a little, but it just missed the point entirely, and THAT was by the matrix guys. yes this is by the guy behind '300', but again, that was an entirely different trope then 'Watchmen.'

i'm affraid their gonna action it up, and get rid of the whole chessgame aspect.

that and they changed the time era. i dunno how it will work in this day and age...

oh well. theirs my thoughts.
