I hear ya, Bro!

I'm a leg and Butt (mostly butt of late)man myself...and have always wondered why the Heroines here seem to be rather outsized myself. If they are always "on the run", so to speak...wouldn't that work off a lot of the fat cells in their bodies? And, basicly, that all breasts are: fat-filled milk glands to help in the re-population of this species, Man.

If you go back 3-4 thousand years, all of the "fertility symbols" that you dig up these days alway had large boobs on them. That, and rather large-sized hips. (this is getting a little deep for me...)

Anyway, I've put my two cents worth in...now, it's someone else's turn!
