Let the games begin.

BOING!

I was just about to ask all those questions.

It is really a simple answer to your question. No offense ladies, but B-Cups do not sell beer, cars, copy paper or comic books. Plus, they are superhumans... their boobs do not bounce... they are firm! Or it is just a control top.

My concern is that you are worried about boob size and not with the fact that most costumes are not battle friendly. they can't fight in those clothes without having a boob slip... it is impossible.
