A 90 year old man meet a friend at the local bar and say:

- Hey, bud! Long time no see. I have some news for you. I got married with a 20 year old girl last month and guess what? She's waiting for a baby already.

His friend look at him for a while and reply:

- Lemme tell you a story I've heard: Some guy went hunting for lions, but dumb as he was, he took an umbrella thinking it was his gun.

After awhile deep in the jungle, a lion came running towards him with the intention to attack. The guy pull his "gun" and aim, a loud bang is heard and the lion falls dead at his feet...

- Hey, that's impossible!!! An umbrella can't kill the lion...Someone had to fire the shot for him...

-..... My point, exactly!
