I downloaded Firefox browser because alot of folks here say its good but I cannot upload image files to any site I visit using it. When I hit the browse button to upload the image it wont show any image files at all in the file upload windown. Only shows things like zip files, poser scene files and things of that nature. I have no problem uploading from IE 7 or my ISP so it is a problem with Firefox.

I like the browser, been using it for a week now but just tried to upload an image here for the first time using it and this happened. If I cannot upload image files then it does me no good
I asked over at that Mozilla help forum but figured I would ask here as well.
