Well, somebody has got to speak for us 'Voltrons'
(exactly what does that mean in reference to Poser users anyway?

First off, I freely admit I'm a novice with the program (not all of us can be a Yunnners right out of the box ). Still have a LOT to learn about shaders, nodes, magnets, and postwork in photoshop (among many other things).

As to lighting: I may have bit off more than I can chew by putting poser on a system not optimized for it; I tend to use lighting sets that don't cast very many shadows (half of the time Poser craps out when I pick shadow-heavy lights).

As to Poses: Although I have a ton of poses, I admit there are a few favorites I often re-use (especially true when it comes to the limited sex poses I have Finally, on the topic of multiple accounts (at HM at least): For about a month recently I had somehow lost access to HM, I created another account to see if that was the problem, but haven't used it for anything since [did the site go down from too much bandwidth usage?]).
).

So, that being said:

"Go Ventronic.... ummm, I mean Voltron... Force!"
