most sources have said that the next batman's plot would follow a Long Halloween arch....which Catwoman played a big role in. Guess i'd need to see some convincing photo manips to be the judge.

How is that going to work? Two-face died in the movie, and Heath, who played the Joker, died in real life. I very much doubt they'll give his part to someone else.

Without two-face and the joker, you can't really do that story, can you?
