Just to let you know, I've posted the teams to Max and he'll be getting back to me tonite (hopefully) to okay everything. Then we're good to go. We'll email you out your partners email addresses once we've confirmed things.

So that you all know how it happened. I took the lists above. I then generated 12 random numbers using the random number generator at www.random.org. I then assigned the numbers according to the list of C2f'ers. So the first number for example 4 was assigned to my name. That meant that I was paired up with person number 4 in the Heromorph list;Flux. Those weren't the real numbers btw :P

That clear for everyone? Oh, and StatXero (number 13), we've provisionally put you in a group of three, I hope that is okay with you?

Mike
