Thank goodness Burton wasn't allowed to do the Red/Blue energy superman movie he wanted to do.
And Burton's pick for Superman? Nicholas Cage!

John Peters' pick was Sean Penn!

Further proof to me that Hollywood has no clue how to do a proper superhero genre movie. The guy from Smallville wouldn't be bad if they had him looking more mature and didn't do the whole oiled back hair look. I wonder though if he is short? Supes need to be a tall, broad kind of guy. A 6.5 foot Stallone with a different head and ability to act. The guy in the last Superman looked like a weinie.
