The person that said that about 3d art is a moron.

Art is art, the tools may vary. that's like a sculpturer telling a painter he isn't an artist because he didn't make the paint.

or a penciller telling an inker he isn't an artist because he didn't pencil the image. or the inker telling the colorist he isn't an artist because he just filled in the color in the blanks.

all a bunch of bullshit.

truthfully, I think the lack of comments is all Daruma's fault.
