BHM-

I wouldn't worry about how your comments are taken. If something moves you to comment or you see something and you want to start a dialog with the artist about some technique you picked up that would help them, you should do it.

I don't want people to second guess if you should comment or not. Go with your instinct.

I also want to admit that I like comments and it does bug me to get a high view number but few comments. Ultimately, I can't change that. I enjoy having people comment on my stuff and give me advice. I'm here to improve my work and someday, I'd like to have my work be publishable.
