Just because Jim Lee's art looks better then Darth Pauls doesn't mean Darth's not an artist. Damn Straight I'm an Artist!

Thank's Hawk. Truth of the matter is that most of the general public who sees my work thinks that I'm a frickin' artistic genius, it's only among my fellow artists in cyberspace here that my strenghts and weaknesses get evaluted and I become that much better. Yet, it's that public, and my friends here in cyberspace that enjoy my work for the art that it is that really matters rather than the detractors. As should matter to the 3D folks or the manippers. Incedentially Jim Lee is one my favorite artists and someone that I strive to get to a level such as him someday.
