hey J,

I suppose John does come across as being henpecked. I guess the idea is the he is supposed to go from neb to kickass leader though I suppose he could be given more of a spine. there are 13 episodes so give it time. I like Ryan although it would not surprise me if Cameron decides at some point that she is a liability that needs to be eliminated. and if so, I also don't see Sarah shedding too many tears. this coming episode should be interesting: how Cameron came to be. just think there could be a future where there are no Terminators and Cameron is a real flesh-and-blood person.
