If they are all parts of the same file in chunks, which means split. Usually this is a (filename).001.avi, or something to that effect. Search the net and find a program called HJSplit. Then put all your files into one folder. Open HJSplit and choose join file. Point this to the folder where the .001 file and the rest are kept. The program will do the rest here, it will find the rest of the peices in the folder and join them. Its Freeware. :) Hope that helps.
