Exactly BD. I want to click on 3d and see the newest 3d posts. I liked that I could quickly pick out the people I liked and see their stuff quickly. If someone new showed up, it was easy to spot them and check out what they do. I liked doing the same thing for manips and 2d. It was simple. The member gallery wasn't too bad because it doesn't get that many new pics and with kids it is best not to be have member gallery pics on screen.

I avoid other sites that are hard to find things in. If I do go, it is to see one thing and get the hell out.
