First, I'd like to echo Star's sentiments and applaud the efforts of the admins and mods. Personally, I like the merge. I think there's plenty of good work that falls somewhere in the middle, where multiple techniques are used and it's better not to be forced to choose in those instances. Still, I guess I could (kinda) understand why some folks wouldn't want check out all types of image. Perhaps some searchable tags could be implemented on images to keep everybody happy?
