I have a question... sort of goes with this. I've noticed a lot more sketches showing up in the galleries instead of the forums. What is the standard for this now?

Good question VL.

Sketches still should go into the sketch forum, that has recently been renamed from Lead Poisoning to Sketchy Sketches. Now this doesn't apply to just 2d artists that do sketches. 3d artists that do fast and dirty renders, or manippers that do quick studies or images can also post there images that were never meant to be full completed pictures here as well.
