Well, I've never paid for any autographs that I've gotten from the few celebs that I have gotten sigs from and I never will. Unless they're willing to sign for free, I don't need their autograph. That said, the only person I ever wanted a sig from that I was told doesn't do it was Hideki Matsui of the NY Yankees, but that wasn't from the guy personally, I was told that from a guy who knows a guy who could've gotten me just about any sig from just about any Yankee for free. Turns out I didn't get any of them, but whatever, I'm cool with it.
