it could also be the fact that a number of the adult images on the site. estimated number of about 100 went missing from our site when we moved from our last server host to this server host. the thumbnails for these images were transferred but the images themselves went missing. we have checked our site backups but we are missing the same images from those as well. if anyone/ including the original artists finds a missing image and has a copy of the image on their harddrive please e-mail them to heromorph@shaw.ca and we will put them backup. As a gold member you should have full access to the site and all our galleries.
