T-28 looks like an Animators exit reel from school. Good animation, but come on...

I really am not looking forward to any of them considering I always get the bug to go to the movies after they are already on DVD. SO... I will need some reviews to get me motivated to go see any of these. DOn't get me wrong, a lot of them look like they have great potential... it is just hard to spend $20 to see these at the theater.
