as a newbie who wasn't around for the last HeroMorph awards thing, i'd like to ask who votes for the Morphy's? is it decided by administrators/moderators, or is it an open vote. i like the idea of the "other" awards being decided by public vote, especially if the main awards are decided by a set of specific judges.

that said, i think this is a great idea. also, i don't think it matters if a particular piece of work gets awards during both show. what's so bad about winning more than one award? if a manip wins multiple awards, it must deserve it. i see people walk away with multiple oscars every year....
