Dang I was going to enter then i saw the membership required stip. Oh well good luck to everyone else

Yeah, if you have a username and password you are a member.

But everyone, if you want something changed, let us know. If a dozen (or even 1) writers spoke up and e.g. said for this contest they want to write adult material we would probably change that rule.

Because this is a site made by fans and for fans.

The reason the moderators make decisions and rules is because it is very rare for others to give input.

It's hard for us to know what stuff you guys really like because so many are so quiet. Except boobies, we are pretty sure you like boobies.
