As you may or may not know, I have a modest little website. Yet, in my efforts to get it up to par, I've hit a bit of a snag concerning disk space with the free hosting on Tripod where it is housed. They only give me 20MB of space for my files unless I upgrade to a better plan which will cost me standard monthly net fees that I'm just not willing to pay right now. And I've already used half of that space and can see that there's no way that I can put everything that I want in with such a small amount of file space. So, my question is, is there any way that I could find another online server that is preferably free of charge with more space that I could hold my files on and then link them to my website?
