I really don't get why Warner/DC hasnt make more films
It's a fact we are getting Green Lantern, the rest are just speculations

Marvel is making some good movies, but it has also learned from past mistakes (daredevil, elektra, ghost rider, 1 hulk, and 3 shots at punisher)

We got also the fact that marvel sells their characters (sony to spider man or X men to fox)and i doubt DC would do that, the bad thing is that they have to risk their money, and we are hoping time warner to make like 15 super heroe movies. I guess warner is more worried to how they're making more Harry Potter films

Cap, it really doesnt matter is DC's characters are god like, u can always tell a good story, u just need the right script

And Jr, i also have the same opinion as Quentin and (RIP) D Carradine
