First of all i don't like batman (Bruce) being dead...

but he is not "dead" he's just in the prehistory painting caves (which isn't that cool either)
What i think sucks the most, is how he died, plus there were 2 separate stories of him dying (i haven't read RIP, but In FC it was terrible, specially since he used a gun)

What i think is OK, is having a story where Nightwing finally gets to wear the cowl, and Bruce Jr is Robin. It won't last long (unless fans like it, which clearly isn't the case)

Maybe during this time we get some good plots, and it should be interesting to see how Dick handles the cowl, and the leadership of the bat family and the JLA; or to see how much he's gonna change into someone darker...

Also im anxious to see what will happen with batgirl, and barbara gordon
