Don't you hate when you can't remember something no matter how hard you try?

In this case I'm trying to remember the name of a horror movie that is placed in the days of the old west, what I can remember of the trailer is that some cowboys are fighting some kind of creatures in the forest and trying to stay alive, I don't know if the movie has been released or not...so if somebody can know the name please let me know, so I can stop thinking about it.
